Woman Killed By Husband In Castle Rock

A 37-year old mother of four was shot Monday by her husband in front of the Douglas County Courthouse in Castle Rock. She died less than an hour later.

Sheriff John Hammond said the dead woman was Mrs. Tresie Brown.

Her husband, Robert Brown was wounded by Undersheriff Charles Sloan who witnessed the shooting. Brown was taken to Colorado General Hospital for treatment of gunshot wounds of the groin and hand. He was not seriously injured.

According to Sheriff Hammond, the Browns were having domestic troubles and the man allegedly beat his wife. She was on her way to the courthouse when the shooting occurred about 4 p.m. in front of horrified witnesses.

The undersheriff said he saw Brown open fire on his wife with a .45 caliber pistol as she approached the courthouse. She was struck by two bullets.

Sloan said he opened fire on Brown immediately, hitting him twice.

One witness said she heard the shots and heard a woman scream, "My God, he's killed her."

At least six shots were exchanged. Two bullets hit the courthouse door. It was not known if Brown fired back at Sloan.

Mrs. Brown died at 5:10 p.m. in the emergency room at Swedish Hospital in Englewood.

The couple lived about a half mile south of Castle Rock.

Newcomer Case Fees Too High, Judge Declares

The trustee and attorney for the defunct Joe Newcomer Finance Co. were told Monday that if their claims for more than $70,000 in fees were allowed, the judge would have to send the stockholders across the street to bankruptcy court.

Judge William E. Doyle made the comment in continuing a hearing on fees and allowances for persons connected with the reorganization of the local firm.

Fred M. Betz Sr. of Lamar has asked for $35,000 for his work as trustee over the past 16 months. The court had originally allowed him $7,000. Philip Hornbeam Jr., attorney for the (Turn to Page A4, Column 1)

UNSHATTERED CONFIDENCE — H. A. Perry, research materials engineer at the Naval Ordnance Laboratory in Maryland, near Washington, says submarines made of glass would be much stronger at depths of thousands of feet than the high strength steel used in present deep-diving craft. Perry, shown behind a heavy 33-inch diameter of specially treated glass which will soon be subjected to heavy impact tests, said with new chemical treatment and processing glass can be made to withstand perhaps 100,000 pounds pressure per square inch. This, said Perry, compares with ordinary glass which can take 5,000 to 10,000 pounds pressure per square inch. (AP Wirephoto)

Communication Lacking, Say Visitors in Dixie

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — "It is the lack of communication that hurts," Mrs. Robert B. Meyner says about the racial situation in Mississippi, which she and five other New Jersey women visited secretly earlier this month.

Mrs. Meyner, wife of a former New Jersey governor, commenting Sunday on the trip, said that getting together and talking was vital for the solution of racial problems North or South.

Her group met secretly with a group of white Mississippi women in an office in the Negro section of Jackson, Miss., to exchange views during the Aug. 18-20 stay.

They were the last of seven groups of Northern women to journey south in a project initiated by the National Council of Negro Women. One purpose was to try to encourage communication between white and Negro women in Mississippi. Another was "to expose Northern women to life behind the cotton curtain and give them a cultural shock," according to Mrs. Louis G. Cowan of New York, coordinator of the program.

"It is very difficult, almost impossible for Jackson white people to meet with Negroes except in the Negro section," Mrs. Meyner said.

The two Negro women in Mrs. Meyner's group did not ride in cars with the other New Jersey women. The Negroes stayed in Negro homes and the whites stayed in white homes, Mrs. Meyner said.

The New Jersey group spent one day visiting educational and voter registration projects run by college students in Hattiesburg, Miss.

"They are the real heroes of the summer," Mrs. Meyner said.

"We didn't go down to tell the Southern whites how we felt or what to do. We have plenty of our own problems here, with riots in Harlem, Paterson, Elizabeth and now Philadelphia. We hope to learn how to handle some of our problems here," she said.

The situation in Mississippi is somewhat different, Mrs. Meyner feels.

"I think there are 625,000 Negroes who are eligible to vote but don't have the franchise," she said. "Only six per cent have the vote. They have a long way to go, although a number of Negroes and whites long to do something and see the handwriting on the wall."

Unconscious Youth Saved by Lifeguard

BOSTON (AP) — James Collins, 14, was knocked unconscious when touched by a high-voltage wire Sunday but a lifeguard saved him from possible death.

William Murphy, 20, lifeguard from Malibu Beach, lassoed Collins with a rope and pulled him free of the wire on Doheny Bay Bridge.

Bridgetender James Stamos, 44, of Quincy had tried to pull the boy free with his hands but was knocked into the water by the electrical charge.

Barry to Wind Up Floating Vacation Week

By WALTER R. MEARS

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif. — Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater winds up a week-long floating vacation today after staking out foreign policy as a key target in his campaign against President Johnson.

Goldwater and his wife were due to cruise back to Newport Beach aboard their borrowed motor yacht, the Sundance. They have been cruising Southern California's coastal waters since last Tuesday. Goldwater said it would be his last respite before the Nov. 3 election.

The Arizona senator had one business session. He talked strategy Sunday with campaign director Denis Kitchel.

Politically, Goldwater has been silent most of the time, often unavailable even to his staff. Twice, however, he has fired ship-to-shore salvos at President Johnson's foreign policy.

He said the speech with which Johnson accepted the Democratic presidential nomination last Thursday "was a clear withdrawal from leadership in international affairs." He called it an "isolationist acceptance speech."

On Saturday he accused Johnson of trying to "to avoid all questions regarding foreign policy."

Goldwater demanded that the President tell the nation "just how deeply we have been involved in the runaway rioting and governmental musical chairs going on in South Viet Nam."

Most of Goldwater's hours afloat have been spent in relaxation. With four guests — Mr. and Mrs. Bert Holloway of Burbank, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. John Martini of Los Angeles — the Goldwaters have fished, engaged in some seagoing target practice with shotguns and pistols and watched slides of the Republican National Convention.

Goldwater has spent hours at a portable ham radio set, contacting more than 300 fellow operators in almost every state.

Goldwater plans to come ashore late today and spend the night with his wife at the Balboa Bay Club.

The senator is due in Hollywood Tuesday to tape television appearances for the campaign. Then he will fly to Phoenix aboard the Boeing 727 jet leased for the campaign.

He formally launches his race against Johnson at Prescott, Ariz., on Thursday.

Governor's Watch Returns From India

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — A wrist watch owned by former New Mexico Gov. Tom Bolack has seen the world on its own. Bolack lost the timepiece while hunting buffalo in India several months ago.

The watch was found by a man who had served as a bearer on Bolack's safari in a remote region of India. The bearer handed the watch to a minor public official. Some weeks later, the watch reached New Delhi.

It was forwarded to P. M. Meenan, India's consul general at San Francisco.

When Indian Ambassador B. K. Nehru visited New Mexico early this month, he turned the watch over to State Welfare Director Leo T. Murphy of Santa Fe who delivered it to Bolack last week at Farmington.

Kennedy Library Fund Is $6 Million

BOSTON (AP) — The John F. Kennedy Memorial Library fund has passed the $6 million mark.

A family spokesman said Sunday that the Kennedy family has been "particularly impressed by the industrious youngsters who have staged parties and other activities" to raise money for the proposed $10-million library to be built on a bank of the Charles River overlooking Harvard University.

James V. Lavin, fund drive consultant, said the $6 million includes $1 million from the Kennedy family and $2 million from the AFL-CIO.

Canon City CAP Planes Help In Air Search

Three Canon City Civil Air Patrol planes and pilots participated Sunday in the search for the light plane reported missing early Saturday on a flight from Aspen to Greeley, according to 2nd Lt. John Waldron, of Canon City, commanding officer of the local squadron.

The plane was found 15 miles northeast of Aspen by ground parties Sunday, badly burned, with four passengers dead.

The Canon City planes took off at 5 a.m. Sunday, each flying three sorties in the Eagle area before returning to Fremont County airport in the afternoon. Eagle was base headquarters for the operation.

Waldron said the planes were piloted by 2nd Lt. Grace Waldron and Carmon Dunn as observers; Jim Shoun with George Levy, Dave Nash and George Sartor as observers; and Clyde Walker with Bob Fredrickson as observer.

Waldron was in charge of the ground control of the local planes.

The regular meeting of the group was held in the Fremont County Court House in Canon City with Sgt. Neal McGee of the city police force directing a first aid course.

Newcomer Case Fees Too High, Judge Declares

trustee, has claimed $33,500 in fees.

In addition the two men had claimed a total of $5,215 in expenses bringing their total claim to $72,715.

Judge Doyle, in withholding a final decision, said however that the fees would not be allowed as presented. He continued the hearing until 11 a.m. Friday.

Six other persons have claimed a total of $15,300 in fees for their work in attempting to save the company from being declared bankrupt. They also claim a total of $1,119.23 in expenses.

Judge Doyle said Monday that the court-appointed officials knew when they took the case that the fees would be "meager" because the firm had little assets.

The Security and Exchange Commission which moved in on Newcomer early last year and ordered the firm padlocked will examine each claim.

Two witnesses for Betz and Hornbeam said they felt the fees were reasonable and just for the amount of work the men did.

Sen. Cheever To Attend Pueblo Meet

Senator Vernon A. Cheever, of 1106 Forest Road, president pro tem of the Colorado State Senate, is attending a district association meeting of the South East Colorado County Commissioners on Friday, at the Pueblo Courthouse.

Also in attendance will be Governor John Love and Charles Smith, Roger Fay and Keith McBurney, County Commissioners from El Paso County.

The purpose of this meeting is for liaison between the Commissioners and the State Legislators.

Gladys Ida Schwartz Rites at Woodland Park

Miss Gladys Ida Schwartz, of Woodland Park, died Sunday at her home. She was a retired Safeway Store clerk and had been a resident of Woodland Park for 53 years. She was secretary of the Woodland Park Community Church and was treasurer of the Sunday School and taught children in the church.

Miss Schwartz was born in Cripple Creek, Colo., Nov. 25, 1886. Her only survivors are cousins, George Albert Teachout, Bethany, Mo., and Mrs. Ida Fulton, Denver.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Wednesday at the Woodland Park Community Church. The Rev. P. R. Epler will officiate. Cremation will follow the services. The Law Mortuary has charge of arrangements.

Men, Woman Beat, Rob Carson Man

Henry James Gray, a Ft. Carson man, told the sheriff's office early this morning that he was beaten and robbed of $120 by two men and a woman.

According to Deputy Sheriff Lee Queen and Dave Sturgeon, Gray was walking to the bus station shortly after midnight Monday, when a car drew up beside him and offered him a ride. He accepted and the vehicle drove to the Peak View Feed elevators, 1100 E. Las Vegas St., where the two men jumped into the back seat and started beating him up while the woman took the money.

Speaking at a reception at the Moors Restaurant attended by more than 100 persons, Walton said the Sheriff's Office, the State Patrol, and the Police Department as being better equipped to carry out such functions and private investigators would result in interference with existing law enforcement agencies and result in a lack of cooperation.

Walton said he favored legislation which would prohibit a defendant being free on bail once an insanity plea had been entered. Until such legislation is forthcoming, the attorney said if he is elected he would attempt to get the maximum bond set for defendants who have entered an insanity plea.

Walton said his opponent (Robert Russel) had recommended an "open door" policy of investigation of all complaints even though not of a "strictly criminal nature." He said he strongly opposed this position, pointing out it is important for the DA's office to separate civil matters from criminal cases so that the DA does not use criminal statutes to further civil interests.

Finally they were persuaded to go home and left, still with the siren going. Two people reported to Scott that they had almost been forced off the road by the boy's car.

Officer Miller said he interviewed one of the youths at his home who admitted the incident and said "they were only having fun." Miller also added that the same group have been a constant source of trouble in the Broadmoor district this past summer.

Mrs. Grace Smith Died Sunday at 76

Mrs. Grace W. Smith, wife of Harry L. Smith, 2120 W. Cuellar St., died Sunday at 76 at a local hospital. She had moved to Colorado Springs with her husband two years ago from Vale, S.D.

Mrs. Smith was born in Iowa, June 20, 1888. Besides her husband she is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Lyle Beaudin, of Colorado Springs, and Mrs. Thomas Castor, Lead, S.D.; a son, A. D. Smith, U.S. Army, and 11 grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at the Blunt Mortuary Chapel. The Rev. C. L. Moser of Bethany Baptist Church, will officiate. Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery.

Firemen Save Food From Hungry Flames

Company 3 firemen of the Colorado Springs Fire Department were standing by at 10:15 a.m. today, but not getting anything to eat, when a truck loaded with food tipped over at Ent Air Force Base. The firemen were there to wash gasoline from the pavement should any leak from the truck.

Sparks from a barbecue set fire to a fence at the home of Charley Garcia, 2019 Armstrong Ave., Monday. There was little damage to the fence, but the fire was not in the right place for the goodness of the barbecue. A fire alarm was turned in at 2:17 p.m. and firemen of Company 3 put out the fence fire.

Boy Arrested For Exposure

A 14-year-old boy was arrested for exposing himself to a 67-year-old woman Monday morning. The woman told police the boy came to her door and said he was selling candy. He exposed himself to her from the door step. The boy was later picked up on the basis of a description furnished by the woman. He has admitted the incident, police said.

Personal Injury Suit Filed in Court Here

A $33,454 personal injury suit was filed in District Court Tuesday by Robert G. and Naomi Yager, 11 Cedar Lane against William Glenn Jackson, 532 E. Bijou St.

According to the complaint on Aug. 30, 1963 at 25th Street and West Colorado Avenue the defendant drove his car into the Yager vehicle and Mrs. Yager alleges she received permanent head, neck and back injuries.

He has been doing fine.

Walton Opposes Investigative Staff for DA

Attorney Norman E. Walton said here Monday night that he is opposed to private investigative staff as part of the District Attorney's office.

The candidate for District Attorney said he feels this is an unnecessary duplication of existing facilities in the law enforcement agencies and an unnecessary expenditure of taxpayers' money.

Speaking at a reception at the Moors Restaurant attended by more than 100 persons, Walton said the Sheriff's Office, the State Patrol, and the Police Department as being better equipped to carry out such functions and private investigators would result in interference with existing law enforcement agencies and result in a lack of cooperation.

Accident Victim Reported Improved

A 16-year-old boy who suffered a skull fracture when his motorcycle collided with a car Monday afternoon was reported in satisfactory condition this morning at St. Francis Hospital.

Joel R. Breen, 834 N. 31st St., was the injured boy. Police said his motorcycle collided with a car driven by Bonnie Mae Hammer, 17, of the 8th Street Trailor Park. The accident happened at 30th Street and Pikes Peak Avenue and was the second such accident at that intersection in less than a week.

The Hammer girl was issued a summons for taking the right of way and not having an operator's license. The time of the accident was 3:17 p.m.

Fire Causes Damage At Metals Plant

The plant of Cust-o-Fab Inc., an ornamental metals products business, at 2447 E. St. Vrain St., was severely damaged by fire early this morning. The Knob Hill Fire Department was called at 1:05 a.m. and 18 voluntary firemen, under direction of Joe Gordon, chief, fought the fire until 3:05 a.m. No cause of the fire was available from the Knob Hill fire station this morning.

David S. McCurdy is president of the business and Charles A. Chapman secretary-treasurer.

Transistor Radio Taken From Purse

Sylvia Helfer, 1345 N. Bennett Ave., reported to the sheriff's office that while she was at Sears Shopping Center her purse was taken and found later in a rest room with a $23 transistor radio missing from it.

According to Deputy Sheriffs Lee Queen and Dave Sturgeon, Miss Helfer put the bag down while she was trying on coats & was found a short time later in the ladies rest room.

He has been doing fine.

Sixteen Persons Forfeit Bonds In City Court

Sixteen persons forfeited a total of $480 in bonds when they failed to appear in Municipal Court Monday to answer charges against them.

Resisting police, breach of the peace and drunkenness cost George Mantz, 67, of 711 N. Weber St., $73.

Judge Allan Asher ordered the $50 bond of Alfonso Vigil forfeited. Vigil, 40, of 1105 E. Cache La Poudre St., was charged with drunkenness and committing a nuisance.

Rosevelt Newton, 26, of 927 S. 22nd St. forfeited a $30 bond on charges of riotous conduct and breach of the peace and John Bitner, 23, of Mexico City, forfeited a $25 bond for breach of the peace.

The following persons forfeited $25 bonds when they failed to appear on drunkenness charges:

Jose Badial, 26, 944 E. Moreno St.; Don Barnes, 27, 18½ Cheyenne Blvd.; Jack Barnes, 52, 2702 W. Colorado Ave.; Harold Jacobson, 57, 1702 N. Nevada Ave.; Burnie McManus, 35, 2003 N. Tejon St.; Antonio Medina, 34, 2409 V. Vermijo St.; Truman Payne, 45, 214 W. 6th St.; John Stout, 20, E. St. Vrain St.; Hansel Studer, 30, 2423 W. Colorado Ave.; Alive Sullivan, 43, 247 LaClede St.; Ben Woodley, 66, 322 N. Wahsatch Ave., and Eli Youngblood, 58, 504 Wilma St.

The judge also dismissed several cases at the request of the complaining witness. Charges of riotous conduct, breach of the peace and drunkenness against the following persons were dismissed:

Raymond Hurst, 28, 3226 E. La Salle St.; Norris Robinson, 23, 313 W. Vermijo St.; Reuben Tullock, 37, 311 W. Willamette St. The same charges against Jimmie Archuleta, 20, of 419 E. Colorado Ave., were dismissed when the complaining witness failed to appear. Also dismissed was a charge of breach of the peace against Pauline Vanegmond, 42, of 28 N. Bonfay Ave.

Charges of riotous conduct and breach of the peace against William Edlow, 23, of 730 E. Costilla St., were dismissed at the request of the complaining witness.

Final plats:

The Stratmoor Valley, fourth filing, an area containing 10 acres, located south of Bates Bridge and east of Interstate Highway 25.

Pine Park Estates, presented by Charles W. and Edna R. Eaton. The area is located on the south side of Burgess Road, one mile east of Vollmer Road and contains about 103.113 acres.

Final plats:

Green Mountain Ranch, fourth filing, an area containing 10 acres, located west of Interstate Highway 25 and northwest of the asset which our beautiful location represents and are prepared to contribute to it in terms of handsome architecture, landscaping, and effective, but tasteful signing.

"Most public-minded profitable businesses of the kind we would attract here... are aware of the asset which our beautiful location represents and are prepared to contribute to it in terms of handsome architecture, landscaping, and effective, but tasteful signing."

The letter warned that any move to lower the standards of the sign regulations would jeopardize our economic structure since, while we excel in advantages of beauty, we lack commensurate advantages on purely industrial and commercial offerings such as water, natural resources... superior transportation facilities and nearness to major markets.

Other portions of the letter are as follows:

The motorist cannot approach the city — from any direction — without being greeted by the visual cacophony of neon and bright paint.

To this he said Gen. Palmer replied that he would see what could be done and later sent his secretary to tell Stevens to go ahead and serve liquor to his guests when they wished it and that nothing would be done about loss of his property. Stevens did not say whether or not he took advantage of such oral permission.

When Stevens died he left some fat scrapbooks, in which much of the early history of Colorado Springs was recorded in newspaper clippings. Miss Dorothy Smith, curator of the Colorado Springs Pioneer Museum, has been trying to get those scrapbooks ever since. They are supposed to be in keeping of some of the Stevens heirs who do not live in Colorado Springs.

"We urgently advise the members of the City Council, the Planning Commission and the Sign Committee that best outdoor advertising is an intrusive medium. As such, responsible legislation insuring the restraint and good taste of this medium is imperative."

The letter was signed by officers of the organization and chairmen of various committees.

A preliminary plat up for commission consideration is Chapel Hills Addition, filing number one, presented by the Cimarron Development Co. The area is located north of Burgess Road, one and three quarter miles east of Interstate Highway 25 and contains 47.4 acres.

Defendant Gives

Wrong Address

Last week the Gazette Telegraph erroneously listed the address of Asa Ankrum, charged in District Court with no account check, as 2423 Hagerman St.

The defendant does not live at this address despite the fact that he gave it to the sheriff's office when arrested. He has also given 2421 Hagerman St. and the Evergreen Motel, 3027 N. Nevada Ave., as other addresses. Neither the police or sheriff's department are certain where he lived.

Ankrum, 57, is currently serving a 90-day sentence in County Jail for a traffic violation. He has also been accused of writing a $30 no account check & giving it to the Pikes Peak Army Store, 224 S. Tejon St., July 15. He is scheduled to be arraigned in the near future.

Graduate of High School Asked Again

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — "I know we have a campaign against school dropouts, but this is just too much," said Joan White.

She received a card from Palmetto High School requesting her to register today for the coming year.

She graduated from the school last June.

Republicans Forget Political Change

OLYMPIA, Wash. (AP) — An aide to Gov. Albert Rosellini says he has proof the Republican national ticket of Sen. Barry Goldwater and Rep. William Miller is way behind the times.

The governor's press secretary, Calvin Johnson, showed a letter Monday from the Goldwater-Miller Washington, D.C., headquarters.

It was addressed to "The Hon. Arthur B. Langlie, Gov. of the state of Wash., Olympia, Wash."

Republican Langlie served from 1941-45 and again from 1949-57.

Deaths

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. Walter K. Myers, 61, nationally known heart and rheumatic disease specialist and a life trustee of the National Geographic Society, died Monday of heart integration movement because of marriage.

LIDO DI CAMAIORO, Italy (AP) — Goffredo Bellonci, 81, she and free lance photographer Frank Dandridge were married last week in the home of a Norwich, Conn., minister. The Negro couple plans to live in New York.

She said she had resigned from the Cambridge Nonviolent Action Committee and the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee because, "with the commitment that I had I could not take care of both my family and civil rights."

Demonstrations in Cambridge had brought the Maryland National Guard into the city for a year.

LENTHY GOODBY TO JPS DENVER (AP) — Mrs. Mildred Cresswell, secretary of the Colorado Senate, estimated it cost $65.80 to print what is believed to be the longest bill ever introduced in the legislature.

It is 276 printed pages and provides for removing all references to justices of the peace from state statutes.

Civil Rights Leader Marries Photographer

NEW YORK (AP) — Gloria Richardson, who led the year-long civil rights fight in Cambridge, Md., says she has left Detroit without its two daily newspapers for more than seven weeks.

The balloting stirred up interest because congressional and legislative reapportionment have matched incumbent against incumbent.

It also is the forerunner to a November general election which could swing control of Michigan's House of Representatives from the Republicans to the Democrats, and cut sharply into the Republican edge in the state Senate.

Gov. George Romney is challenged on the GOP ticket by former state Sen. George Higgins, a Ferndale auto dealer who is a staunch backer of Republican presidential candidate Barry Goldwater.

Romney, seeking his second two-year term in office, has declined to say flatly that he will support the national ticket but was expected to have little trouble beating Higgins.

The GOP candidate will face Rep. Neil Staebler, who is unopposed for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Three Republicans competed for the right to try to unseat Democratic incumbent Philip Hart, a first-term senator with primary opposition.

They are Mrs. Elly Peterson, recently resigned as assistant chairman of the Republican National Committee; James O'Neil, a member of the State Board of Education, and Edward Meany Jr., a leather goods sales promotion manager.

In the congressional races, 17 incumbents are seeking nomination but at least two will be knocked out of the running.

Redistricting has pitted incumbent Democratic Reps. Lucien Nedzi and Harold Ryan against each other in the 14th District and Democrat John Dingell against John Lesinski in the 16th District.

Hovering over the Dingell-Lesinski contest is the question of whether the so-called white backlash against Negro militancy will assist Lesinski, only Northern Democrat to vote against the new Civil Rights Act.

Neither Dingell nor Lesinski has campaigned on the civil rights issue, and the revamped district is largely Lesinski's old territory. Included in the area is his home town, Dearborn, frequently criticized by Negro leaders as racially biased and "lily-white."

Michigan's Legislature, first in the nation to be reapportioned under the U.S. Supreme Court's recent "one man-one vote" ruling, has been revamped under a system that cuts across county, city and township boundaries in some districts to achieve equal population.

The result was the certain elimination of more than a score of present legislators.

The Mogul emperors who ruled northern India three centuries ago "discovered" Kashmir. They built magnificent pleasure gardens there that still delight visitors.

Michigan Voters Go to Primary Elections Today

By GENE SCHROEDER
DETROIT (AP) — Michigan voters mark primary election ballots today for offices ranging from governor to constable — including one category that didn't exist before.

In what was expected to be one of the largest primary turnouts in recent years, the voters selected candidates for a U.S. Senate seat, 19 congressional offices and a 148-member legislature.

Also on the ballot was the newly created State Court of Appeals, established under a revised constitution that went into effect this year.

Elections Director Robert Montgomery predicted as many as 1,250,000 voters might cast primary ballots, largest total since 1952.

The near-record turnout was forecast despite a strike that has left Detroit without its two daily newspapers for more than seven weeks.

The balloting stirred up interest because congressional and legislative reapportionment have matched incumbent against incumbent.

It also is the forerunner to a November general election which could swing control of Michigan's House of Representatives from the Republicans to the Democrats, and cut sharply into the Republican edge in the state Senate.

The Mogul emperors who ruled northern India three centuries ago "discovered" Kashmir. They built magnificent pleasure gardens there that still delight visitors.

Michigan's Legislature, first in the nation to be reapportioned under the U.S. Supreme Court's recent "one man-one vote" ruling, has been revamped under a system that cuts across county, city and township boundaries in some districts to achieve equal population.

The result was the certain elimination of more than a score of present legislators.

Retired Twin Teachers Vacationing at Imperial

Retirement means many Clarence. So she did, and the retired school teacher has proudly carried the name ever since, although it has always been a subject for conversation. Since their retirement from school teaching in 1956, the two sisters have nearly encircled the globe, spent time sunning on the beach in Florida, exploring the midwest and relaxing in their favorite state of Colorado. From the Imperial they went on to Mt. Princeton to enjoy the swimming and the scenery. From there they plan to drive to their favorite resort, Glenwood Springs, where they will spend long hours in the pool, swimming and relaxing in the hot mineral waters.

Several years ago the two were touring Colorado and spent a night at the Imperial Hotel. The Wayne S. Mackins were in the process of renovating the historic hotel. So impressed were the twin school teachers that they offered to send them old pictures of their mother and grandmother if the hotel owners thought they might like them. The offer was accepted and soon the pictures arrived. They still hang in the Imperial Dining Room, 19th century photographs framed in velvet and wood. Many visitors have inquired about the identity of the two, but until now they were unknown. However, plans are underway to have the names of the ladies attached to the pictures.

Before the babies arrived, the twins' mother had chosen Marie as the name for a girl. But two girls left her non-plussed. Her favorite uncle laughingly asked why not name her for him —

If "active" retirement is what the doctor orders, these two are living examples of what a wonderful thing it can be.

NEW ANTIQUE SUPERMARKET

NEW YORK (AP)—A supermarket for antiques?

Sounds unlikely? It's the last wrinkle on how to get a priceless antique for a song in London, according to the British Travel Association.

Antiques in London cost one-third to one-half of comparable prices in the United States, anyway, and the new Antique Supermarket on Barret Street, brings down prices even more.

More than 50 individual dealers rent stands in the vast waerhouse near Selfridge's, the famous auction dealers. Anything from an 18th Century purple pottery Staffordshire cow to a Louis XV clock is available.

Buyers wander through picking out bargains six days a week and late at night Thursdays.

WIFE HEADED WARNING LOUISVILLE (AP) — Louisville policeman Rodney Ortkies warned his wife to beware of purse snatchers in an area where she waited nightly for a bus to take her home from work.

The warning was worth $15. Before going to work a couple of days later, she gave her husband most of her money. Waiting for the bus that night, she had her purse stolen. The loss: only a few cents in change.

A delicately timed defense, by East and West against South's four spade contract, averted a disastrous swing against the United States in the match with Switzerland at the recent World Bridge Olympiad in New York City.

The four spade contract was reached at both tables and, where the Swiss players held the North-South cards, the bidding proceeded as depicted in the diagram so that South became the declarer.

Arthur Robinson seated West for the United States opened the king of clubs in order to inspect the terrain. Robert Jordan, holding the East hand, followed suit with his lowest club, the three. Although the normal procedure with a doubleton is to high-low when partner leads the king, Jordan felt that it was urgent to cash a heart trick immediately, so he gave his partner a discouraging signal in clubs.

West dutifully shifted to the suit in which his partner had overcalled and East played the ace of hearts. Jordan returned the eight of clubs to Robinson's ace, and the latter led another club. North ruffed with the ten of spades and East overruled with the jack to score the setting trick.

Observe that it would have done declarer no good to trump the third club with the king of spades, for East would ultimately score the jack of spades as a natural trump trick.

The key play of the deal was the heart switch at the second trick. If East starts an immediate high-low in clubs inducing his partner to continue clubs, on the third round, South can discard a heart from dummy, thus eliminating his loser in that suit.

At the other table where the American team held the North-South cards, the auction proceeded somewhat differently and North became the declarer at four spades. This simplified the defense considerably. East opened the ace of hearts and, when the king appeared in dummy, he made the natural shift to a club, and the final outcome was the same.

Hints from Heloise

Dear Folks:

It seems there are a lot of budding young artists who draw with ball point ink!

The method used to remove ball point ink depends on what the marks are on. And, there are different "types" of ball point ink; what works on some, won't touch others.

Be "sure" to spot test any item you use.

Try rubbing alcohol, amy acetate, peroxide or fingernail "cuticle" remover and just sponge with a cloth. As a last resort, one could try bleach (read directions on bottle), especially if it's on leather, etc.

Sometimes liquid rust remover will remove remaining red traces. —Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Would someone please settle this controversy between housewives and dishwasher manufacturers once and for all?

It is generally accepted among housewives that you "do not" put fine china or silver in a dishwasher.

It is generally accepted among dishwasher manufacturers, that it is perfectly safe to do so.

Now, who is right?

We spend a lot of money for our fine china and silver and don't want to damage it, so when we need our dishwashers the most—when company comes to dinner—we spend half the evening in the kitchen washing dishes by hand.

So please help us! —Party Pooped

Let's hear from our housewives on this important subject. What is your opinion? Do you put your fine china and silver in your dishwasher? I do.

Write to me in care of this paper and tell us what you think about this. Letters do not have to be signed. —Heloise

Dear Heloise:

I have found when hemming a piece of material with a bias-cut edge that it is much easier if a line of stitching is put near the bias-cut edge before hemming.

This makes it easier to handle and gives a firm edge to keep the material from stretching.

It also helps to make a neat, more even hem. —Becky

Dear Heloise:

The best place for an alarm clock is on the floor next to the bed. This prevents knocking it off the table and breaking it when groping to turn it off in the morning.

It took me 20 years to find this out! —Mrs. P. Z.

How many alarm clocks have you broken? Poor soul! —Helloise

Dear Heloise:

Here is a tip that might be useful to other readers:

I have a pole-type lamp that was too short to be anchored to both the floor and the ceiling. It occurred to me to use a footed plastic planter to raise the pole to the needed height.

I found that a plastic bowl cover makes a terrific bath cap for my little girl.

These plastic bowl covers usually come four sizes to a package and are inexpensive.

The larger size is perfect for Mommy, and the smaller size is just right for my little gal. —Mrs. Jean Fries

Dear Heloise:

Here's a trick for those who have trouble cleaning flour sifters. I learned it from my Home Economics teacher: Just rinse the sifter under "cold" water, then pop it into the oven (moderately warm) and in a few minutes, take the sifter out and it will be as good as new. Result . . . "no rust."

—Reader

Dear Heloise:

For people who have trouble with printers ink (from magazines and newspapers) rubbing off on plastic tablecloths . . . apply cleansing cream as you would to your face to remove make-up. Rub with facial tissue or paper towel before wiping the plastic tablecloth with a damp cloth.

Also, when ready to discard a plastic table cover, remove the felt lining by pulling it away from the plastic. Wash the felt lining and you have a nice soft material for polishing, etc. —Jean

Dear Heloise:

This is a hint for those who keep a piece of sandpaper in the kitchen to help open tight caps on bottles and jars.

I find it quicker and neater than using a damp cloth or inverting the container in hot water. —Mrs. G. M. J.

Dear Heloise:

When I broil a piece of meat, I never seem to cut into the edges deep enough with a knife to keep the ends of the meat from turning up and spattering.

Now I simply cut the edges with a long pair of scissors. This can be done with one hand and in record time. —Mrs. Ed Obrien

Poodle Wins Top Honors In Denver Show

A three-month old poodle won top honors in a puppy match held Sunday by the Colorado Kennel Club in the Denver National Guard Armory.

The white poodle, shown by Mrs. Gary Kenan, a member of the Pikes Peak Poodle Club, was awarded first in class, best of breed in the junior group and placed third in the toy group.

Woman Changes Plea to Guilty

Barbara Fisher also known as Kay Cagney, 21, Route 4, changed her plea in District Court Monday afternoon from innocent to guilty of forgery.

Judge William M. Calvert set Sept. 11 for taking of testimony and vacated the Sept. 8 trial date.

Mrs. Fisher is accused of giving a forged $75 check bearing the signature "Captain R. L. Carlson" to Safeway Stores Oct. 4 of last year.

THE VILLAGE SMITHY—Pictured above is the forerunner of the modern service station of today—the legendary blacksmith shop. This is but one of the many exhibits that make up Main Street U.S.A., the traveling exhibition of the famed Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village in Dearborn, Mich. to be shown here Sept. 23.

Japanese Open Market for Southeast Asia

Central Airlines has entered the jet age

The local service carrier will convert its fleet of Convair 240's into turbo-prop aircraft using Rolls Royce Dart-10 engines, presently being offered to the traveling public in the six-state area it serves.

The General Dynamics Corporation will begin the conversion in the very near future, Bradford said. Following certification by the Federal Aviation Agency (FAA), the first aircraft will be turned over to Central for service on its routes.

Central will become the world's first airline to place this modern Convair Dart aircraft into service. The proposed exhibition of the famed Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village in Dearborn, Mich. to be shown here Sept. 23.

Plans for a Southeast Asia Common Market are ready to take an important step forward with the formation of "Simalpan" — for Singapore, Malaysia, and Japan — a Japanese steel executive said in Los Angeles Friday (8-28-64).

Simalpan, a semi-governmental organization, will establish a steel mill in Singapore to manufacture steel pipe to be used in transportation of water, a vital commodity to immediate development of Southeast Asia, according to Yoshio Iwashita, export manager of Nippon Kokan K. (Japan Steel & Tube Co.)

Yasujiro Yasuda, managing director of Nippon Kokan, met in Singapore recently with government officials and local business executives to explore methods of developing trade among nations in that area. The exploratory Simalpan, in which Nippon Kokan will provide materials and technical direction for the Malaysian mill, was the result.

Construction of the new mill will begin immediately, Iwashita said.

Young Director Of Shakespeare Being Blasted

LONDON (AP) — The Royal Shakespeare Company has come to the defense of a daring young director who is stirring a tempest along the Thames by staging plays some Britons find too gory and vulgar.

In a statement issued Monday night, the company said if the plays are to be condemned, then Shakespeare's plays must also be condemned as "violent, bawdy and full of dirt."

It was the latest episode in a blazing theatrical dispute that has divided the British theatrical world into two bristling camps.

At the center is director Peter Hall, 32, who is being accused of staging "dirty plays" at London's Aldwych Theater with a troupe from the Royal Shakespeare Company of Stratford-on-Avon.

Hall and his players are presenting a series of avant-garde and non-Shakespearean plays featuring, among other things, a beheading and a heroine with unpleasant personal habits.

Hall's critics include Peter Cadbury, operator of London's biggest theatrical ticket agency, Sir Denis Lowson, former mayor of London and a governor of the Royal Shakespeare Company, and impresario Emile Litster, another governor of the company.

The company statement was sent to Sir Forham Flower, 60-year-old brewer who is chairman of the company's governors.

Flower voiced full confidence in Hall.

Looking At Hollywood

By HEDDA HOPPER
© 1964 By the Chicago Tribune

HOLLYWOOD — Joan Crawford was flooded in tears when I called to ask what she thought of Olivia de Havilland replacing her in "Hush, Hush." She first heard about it when a reporter called a few minutes before I did. When she finished sobbing, Joan said, "I'm glad for Olivia — she needs a good picture. But wouldn't it have been nice of Bob Aldrich to call me. The way he did this shocked me. There is a way to make pictures honestly and with kindness, but money's the only thing. This has been the costliest year of my life. This hospital room and all the tests are costing me $1,200 a week and I've been here ten weeks. Thank heaven for Blue Cross.

The combination of Crawford, Bette Davis and Bob Aldrich made "Baby Jane" a mint, and according to Joan she was responsible for putting the picture together.

JOHN WAYNE LOVES sailing, but I should think he'd had his fill for awhile. He went to Honolulu on a flattop for a film; then flew back to Seattle with a skeleton crew and worked his way to Hawaii aboard the St. Paul: "There were 40 of us and 100 of them with the admiral so it was close quarters." Duke's next picture locations in Arizona. His brother, Bob, is still in the hospital recuperating from an auto accident, but his son, Mike gets around crutches . . . Switzerland refused a resident permit to actress Elke Sommer on the grounds it already has too many foreign residents. It's part of the drive to reduce foreign influence and combat inflation. Could they have seen the magazine with those five pages of Elke in the nude in a vulgar German picture?

EDNA FERBER has never written a line for the screen, but her stories have made some great movies — "Show Boat," "Cimarron," "Dinner at Eight," "Stage Door," "Saratoga Trunk," "Giant." She was here for a week researching a new book at the Huntington library, but wouldn't give a hint about the subject. "If it's good, I won't have to talk; if not, I'll be glad I didn't." All actors are ambitious but this is ridiculous Robert Reed, a regular on "Defenders," replaces Robert Redford "Barefoot in the Park" on Broadway, which means he'll be working day and night. He's confident he can handle both jobs: "I studied the classics at the Royal Academy in London and have been dying to get back on the stage." He's not the only one. Lois Roberts, a Chicago girl and cheer leader in high school with Ann-Margret, will be doing the "Broadside" series at Universal and playing in "Gypsy" at the Valley Music theater.

WHEN RICK JASON married recently, he and bride Shirley buried the wedding rings in the backyard of their home beneath a plaque reading: "Be of our past mistakes and a reminder against future errors." Since "A Man Called Peter" was released on TV, Producer Sam Engel has been flooded with letters asking for more pictures like it. His next "Lamb of the Golden Shore" should fill the bill . . . Eve Arden arrives in New York to marry with her husband and family after two years in Europe. Her first job here is with Red Skelton.

YOUR DENTAL HEALTH

You Don't Have to Carry Your Teeth in Your Pocket

By WILLIAM LAWRENCE DDS
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

"I had my teeth extracted, gums trimmed and stitched, and false teeth immediately put in. I never had any trouble with the top plate, but I can't get used to the lower one. It flops around when I talk and eat. Can something be done? I feel so conspicuous without teeth."

Artificial lower teeth, as this reader is finding out, are usually much more difficult to get used to than upper ones. It's an old story and one to which dentists have given much time and study. There are three fundamental rules that govern retention of artificial dentures:

1. Occlusion. Upper and lower teeth must meet evenly and be in perfect balance. Ideally, all upper and lower teeth should come together at the same time.

2. Adhesion by contact. The more gums and bones covered, the better dentures will stay. The advantage here is with upper teeth, because the roof of the mouth offers a large flat area on which dentures can rest.

3. Atmospheric pressure. This is commonly called suction. Edges of upper dentures can be fitted so as to create a perfect seal, thus preventing air from getting underneath.

This last is the clincher. It is suction that makes upper dentures so much easier to use and it is suction that's almost impossible to get in lower jaws. Lower jaws are movable. These movements, as in talking, chewing, coughing and yawning, involve powerful muscles and tend to upset lower dentures and break the seal.

Well-formed body ridges are a great help in successfully fitting lower false teeth. The type of jaws that are particularly hard to fit are ones where there has been much shrinkage of the bony ridge. Teeth made on these flat ridges are sometimes difficult to use.

In extreme and highly sensitive cases, new ideas in retention are being used, such as implanting small but powerful magnets in the jaw bone and opposing magnets in the base of the denture. The magnets attract each other and hold the denture in place.

Here are some helpful practical suggestions:

—Begin by eating slowly, taking small bites of food.

—Swallow one bite before taking another. Sipping a liquid will help in swallowing. Bite with the teeth that are to the right or left of the midline instead of the ones directly in front.

—Learn to use the tongue in controlling movements of the lower denture.

—Practice reading aloud to help with enunciation.

Learn what you can and cannot do with your teeth. Understanding the use of, and the limits of, false teeth is of primary importance. Dentures drastically reduce the ability to exert biting pressure on tough foods, so lifelong eating habits must be adjusted.

You don't have to carry your teeth in your pocket. But don't listen to the advice of well-meaning friends. Go to your dentist for help.

Demos Will Keep Votes in Dixie, Sanders Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Georgia's Gov. Carl Sanders says the chances in the South.

Democrats' selection of Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey as their vice-presidential nominee "will prove to be an asset" to them, but Republican National Chairman Dean Burch contends it will unify and help the Republicans.

Another participant in the weekend's radio-television interviews, Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., conceded that Humphrey's liberal background would be a liability in some respects in the South. But he predicted the ticket of President Johnson and Humphrey would get a majority of the South's electoral votes.

Humphrey returned to Washington and his Senate duties after a long weekend of relaxation and campaign planning at Johnson's Texas ranch. Johnson remained there for some more unwinding after the party's Atlantic City convention.

Johnson's Republican opponent, Sen. Barry Goldwater, also talked campaign strategy during the weekend meeting with Dennis Kitchell, his campaign director, aboard a yacht off Newport Beach, Calif.

Rep. William E. Miller of New York, the Republican vice-presidential nominee, issued a "stop, look and listen" caution to Republicans who might be thinking of supporting Johnson. A switch, he said, "would be a flat denial of every principle that has guided the Republican party in all its years."

In New York State, Clare Boothe Luce withdrew as a potential Conservative party candidate for U.S. senator, paving the way for a head-on clash between Sen. Kenneth B. Keating and Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy. Keating was in line for Republican renomination today, and Kennedy for the Democratic nomination Tuesday.

Sanders, appearing on the ABC television and Radio program, "Issues and Answers," said he didn't think Humphrey's selection would hurt Johnson's chances in the South.

Suggesting that Humphrey "get out on the stump and talk to the people" in the South, Sanders aid "this man is a great campaigner."

Burch criticized both Johnson and Humphrey on the CBS program "Face the Nation," and said the convention which nominated them was "most undemocratic."

He called Johnson "a complete cynic," and said his choice of Humphrey as a running mate was "cynicism of the ultra type."

"As senators,

Humphrey and Johnson often took opposite sides on issues,

Burch said, and they opposed each other for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1960.

Noting Humphrey's membership in Americans for Democratic Action — which he said should be called "Americans for Socialistic Action" — Burch said the association has "effectively killed the question of extremism" in the campaign.

Incidentally, the ADA, which describes itself as a nonpartisan group supporting policies of the New Deal and the Fair Deal, announced it is enthusiastically supporting the Johnson-Humphrey ticket.

Among campaign issues, Burch said, will be lawlessness in American cities, the situation in Cuba and Viet Nam, and the wealth Johnson has acquired since he became a member of Congress.

But the central issue, he said, is "does the United States want a man as cynical as Johnson for president."

Contending that Johnson "is not the type of example that lends itself to absolute law and order," Burch said.

"I think that cynicism has been established by his going along with the idea that let's stop the (race) riots until Nov. 3, until the election is over, and then you can have all the riots you want."

He told a questioner, however, he is not suggesting that Johnson has no concern over riots

after Election Day.

New York to Cheer Keating

By ROBERT T. GRAY

NEW YORK (AP) — New York Republicans meet today in a supercharged political atmosphere to renominate Sen. Kenneth B. Keating and cheer him into battle against U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

The GOP was more optimistic about Keating's chances of withstanding the challenge by Kennedy because of Clare Boothe Luce's decision Sunday not to run as a third-party candidate.

Republican leaders had feared she would have drawn a substantial number of votes from Keating, who won election six years ago by 133,000 votes.

Mrs. Luce said she withdrew in a spirit of Republican unity.

Her decision eliminated a threat by the state Republican organization to withdraw support from the national ticket of Sen. Barry Goldwater and Rep. William E. Miller.

Mrs. Luce, former Republican congresswoman from Connecticut and ambassador to Italy, said she would concentrate her efforts on her assignment as co-chairman of the National Citizens for Goldwater Committee. Previously, Mrs. Luce had said Keating's refusal to support the Goldwater-Miller ticket led her to make herself available for the Conservative nomination for the U.S. Senate.

After her decision not to accept its nomination, the Conservative party turned to Henry Paolucci, a history professor at Iona College at New Rochelle.

Both the Republican and Conservative conventions are today — the GOP here and the Conservatives in Saratoga Springs.

Former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey is to place Keating's name in nomination.

The Democrats will hold their convention here Tuesday. Kennedy was considered assured of the nomination, despite charges of "carpetbagging" from within and without the party.

The attorney general has lived in Virginia and voted in El Paso County needs his over 30 years legal experience.

Top Air Ace Forms Close Tie With Academy

America's top living air ace will form a close tie with the Air Force Academy upon assumption of his new command.

Col. Francis S. Gabreski has received orders appointing him commander of the 52nd Fighter Wing. The 52nd sponsors the Academy's 8th Cadet Squadron under the cadet unit sponsorship program.

The colonel earned his designation as top U.S. ace by destroying 39½ enemy aircraft during World War II and the Korean Conflict. He scored 30½ kills in Europe and destroyed 2½ on the ground before being taken prisoner and added 6½ MIG-15s to his score in Korea.

Under the sponsorship program, operational Air Force units exchange visits to give cadets a first hand look at the Air Force in action and to broaden knowledge of the Academy among active duty personnel.

Cadet squadrons also carry their sponsors colors in all parades.

World War Fighter Ace Assigned to ADC Post

Col. Frank A. Hill, World War came the senior Air Force officer. Two fighter ace, has been assigned to Headquarters Air Defense-Middle East Planning Committee Command as director of defense. His latest assignment began operations. Until recently he was leaving the Pentagon in June 1959 was assistant chief, Air Division, Stewart AFB, N.Y.

Col. Hill was born in Nyack, N.Y. and enlisted in the Army Air Corps from Hillsdale, N.J. in August 1939. He took pilot training at Randolph and Kelly Fields in Texas and received his pilot wings in November 1940.

His first assignment was with the 31st Pursuit Group at Selfridge Field, Mich. which he accompanied to England in May 1942. In July 1943 he assumed command of the British Spitfire equipped 31st. During the battle of Dieppe, Col. Hill, then a captain, shot down his first German aircraft. He also took part in the air war in Tunisia, Morocco, Sicily and Italy flying a total of 166 combat missions.

Following the end of World War Two, he returned to the U.S. and served as deputy base commander for fighter bases at Richmond, Va. and Shaw AFB, S.C. From 1947 to 1949 Col. Hill, who holds a B.S. degree from the University of Maryland, was an engineering student at the University of Denver.

In late 1949, he became senior air instructor for the New York Air National Guard at White Plains, N.Y. In May, 1951, he was assigned to U.S. Air Forces in Europe at Weisbaden, Germany as chief of operational plans. He then became chief of combat operations for the 12th Air Force in Germany.

He took command of the 48th Fighter Group at Chaumont, France in May 1953 until August 1954 when he returned to the U.S. to attend the Army War College.

In June 1955, he was assigned to the Pentagon as assistant chief of the combined plans branch. War Plans Division. The following February, he be-

ADC Members To Begin Tours Of AF Academy

Nine key Air Defense Command staff members will inaugurate a new program Friday with a visit to the Air Force Academy.

Headed by Maj. Gen. W. B. Keese, Chief of Staff, the ADC officers will be welcomed by the Superintendent Maj. Gen. Robert H. Warren, receive a briefing on Academy programs, tour academic area facilities, watch the cadet noon meal formation, and dine in Mitchell Hall, cadet dining hall.

The visit is the first of a series of tours by ADC staff members to acquaint officers of the command with the Academy mission, curriculum, and facilities.

Other members of the first group include: Brig. Gen. Thomas R. Ford, DCS-Materiel; Brig. Gen. Willis F. Chapman, Assistant DCS-Plans; Brig. Gen. William D. Greenfield, assistant DCS-Operations; Brig. Gen. Michael J. Ingelido, ADC Inspector General; and Colonels G. P. Overing, office of the Chief of Staff; James O. Gross, Comptroller; Fred A. Heimstra, Deputy Surgeon, and Ralph C. ## GAZETTE TELEGRAPH

SECTION B

Automatic Warning System Joins NORAD Setup Today

A new system has joined the devices used by the North American Air Defense Command to warn of enemy attack. Gen. John K. Gerhart, NORAD's commander in chief, announced that the new network, called the Automatic Attack Warning System, went into operation today.

The system is designed so it can be triggered by any present or contemplated warning network and provide almost simultaneous and instantaneous alerting of aerospace defense forces.

Initially, AAWS has been linked to the Ballistic Missile Early Warning and Bomb Alarm Systems. The latter indicates locations of bomb detonations.

The new system represents another step in the continuing effort by NORAD — in an era when attack by intercontinental ballistic missiles is calculated in minutes — to increase the amount of time the command's forces have to react.

American Telephone and Telegraph Co. was awarded a contract last April to install the AAWS equipment.

Nearly 200 sites in the United States, Greenland and Newfoundland are tied to the system.

Planes for extending it to NORAD sites in Canada, in addition to those in Newfoundland, are under consideration by Canadian authorities. If approved, provision of the system in Canada will be a routine installation task, according to NORAD headquarters here.

Sites instrumented under the new system include fighter interceptor bases, Nike Hercules and Bomarc surface-to-air missile installations, radar stations, and command and control centers from which employment of defense weapons would be directed.

AAWS enables Gen. Gerhart, as well as commanders of NORAD regions, to speed up alarms issued by alerts originated at NORAD.

Heart element of the Automatic Attack Warning System is the sender, the device which conducts constant continuity checks on all circuits and transmits the alert signals.

All signals from the sender are coded to prevent accidental or unauthorized alert or test alarms.

Each instrumented site has been receiving equipment programmed to recognize the coded transmissions from the sender at NORAD and activate associated visual and audible signals.

The NORAD combat operations center receives visual indication of receipt of the alert automatically from each region. Control panels at regions and sectors also provide indications that the alert has been received at subordinate units.

To increase survivability of the system, separate communications routes are provided to each region and sector.

The network is also designed for use in NORAD's new combat operations center, now being built inside Cheyenne Mountain.

CC Professors Return From Foreign Lands

Five Colorado College professors who have been on academic leave during the past year are returning to the campus from as far away as India, Panama and Greece.

Two of them have been gone for the entire academic year. Three were away for the spring semester only.

Back from India is Prof. Louis G. Geiger, chairman of the department of history. Dr. Geiger spent the academic year as visiting professor of American history at Jadavpur University in Calcutta.

Also gone for the full year was Prof. Alvin Boderman of the sociology department who has been doing research in Washington, D. C., and in Panama.

Prof. William E. McMillen of the drama department spent the spring semester & summer in Greece, Italy, France and Portugal studying classical drama and new developments in the European theater.

Prof. Bernard P. Arnest, chairman of the art department, spent the spring semester and summer painting full time. His paintings are exhibited by Kraushaus Galleries of New York.

Prof. Glenn E. Brooks of the political science department has been doing research during the spring and summer under a $5,000 grant from the Carnegie Corporation of New York. Professor Brooks and a professor from Johns Hopkins University are studying managerial practices in public higher education.

Two other Colo. College professors were on leave during the fall semester and rejoined the faculty in January. They are Prof. Richard M. Pearl of the geology department and Prof. Max Lanner, chairman of the music department.

The visit is the first of a series of tours by ADC staff members to acquaint officers of the command with the Academy mission, curriculum, and facilities.

Other members of the first group include: Brig. Gen. Thomas R. Ford, DCS-Materiel; Brig. Gen. Willis F. Chapman, Assistant DCS-Plans; Brig. Gen. William D. Greenfield, assistant DCS-Operations; Brig. Gen. Michael J. Ingelido, ADC Inspector General; and Colonels G. P. Overing, office of the Chief of Staff; James O. Gross, Comptroller; Fred A. Heimstra, Deputy Surgeon, and Ralph C. Embrey, assistant DCS-Comptroller.

Those who are to go are asked to sign up between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Thursday at the school.

The proposal comprised a parcel of land formerly designated as an A-1 garden home district with the exact location described in a public notice May 30, to be redesignated as an R-2 residence district.

Those who are to go are asked to sign up between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Thursday at the school. The price will be $2.60 and costs.

Wasson High School students will hold a Pep Rally at 7:30 p.m. Thursday night at the Wasson football stadium.

Arrangements will be made for the bus trip to Aurora for the Friday night football game with Aurora Central High School.

Those who are to go are asked to sign up between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Thursday at the school. The price will be $2.60 and costs.

ada, 29, of 539 E. Cimarron St., were continued to 20 days in jail on a charge of discharging firearms and fined $50 for riotous conduct Monday in Municipal Court.

Joe Conner, 519 S. El Paso St., had pleaded guilty to the charges. Police said Conner chased a man in the 00 block of Colorado Avenue last week and fired at him with a shotgun. Conner was granted a five-day stay of execution.

Permits for dwelling construction accounted for $918,100 in value of the total 69 permits issued.

Single dwelling construction value totaled $655,600 for 45 permits issued. One permit was granted for an apartment or hotel type construction, with a value of $167,000.

Eight permits were issued for trailer construction amounting to $56,600 worth.

Judge Allan Asher fined George Montoya, 56, of 931 S. Royer St., $25 for drunkenness and dismissed a charge of riotous conduct against the defendant. Also fined $25 for drunkenness was Richard Koester, 25, of Ft. Carson.

Josephine Haley, 45, of 1616 N. Royer St., was fined $25 for keeping a noisy animal and granted a five-day stay of execution.

The judge continued the case of Marie Clay, 31, of 745 S. Institute St., until Sept. 14. The Clay woman is charged with vagrancy.

The briefing is part of the Academy's Career Development Program.

Returning to their alma mater are three members of the Class of 1960: First Lieutenants Phillip A. Cooke, a C-130 pilot with the 76th Air Transport Sq., Charleston AFB, S. C.; Thomas F. Seebode, C-135 pilot assigned to the 18th Transport Sq., McGuire AFB, N.J.; and Thomas T. Walker, navigator with the 58th Weather Reconnaissance Sq., Kirtland AFB, N. M.; and 1962 graduate, 1st Lt. John F. Guilmartin Jr., H-43 pilot with Detachment 18, Western Air Rescue Center, Webb AFB, Tex.

The 50 young officers will provide the First Class with an insight into the exciting opportunities awaiting them after graduation as well as professional guidance and counseling in picking the career best suited to individual interests and aptitudes.

Two cases of riotous conduct and breach of the peace against Donald Goodman, 19, of 314 E. Vermijo St. Chargin of riotous conduct and breach of the peace against Helbert South, 31, of 32 N. Chestnut St., were continued until Sept. 21.

Three cases were continued until Sept. 8. They were those of Edna Mondragon, 25, 2421 W. Kiowa St., charged with breach of peace; Lena Sanchez, 64, of 304 W. Fountain St., charged with drunkenness.

Bus schedules will be about the same as last year, as school begins, with adjustments being made later in the year, she said.

Mrs. Wolford explained that she preferred that all students in the school register on Friday even if they did pre-register last year.

She explained that this is preferred because of the great number of changes that take place in the district during a year, and also it gives students and parents an opportunity to meet the teachers.

All children new to the school, a Kindergarten and all other grades, should have a birth certificate, Mrs. Wolford said.

The hot lunch program will charge 30 cents a meal by the day, with tickets sold at the rate of $1.50 for a week or $6 for a month. Milk tickets are 15 cents a week or 60 cents a month.

Students will be given the sun — source of all known life — will be "explored" by arm chair astronomers during the new program at the Air Force Academy Planetarium.

Scheduled for Sept. 12 through Nov. 29, "Our Star in Space," will be shown four times each week; Saturday and Sunday afternoons at 2 and 3:15 p.m.

The mysteries of our own existence lie in the sun's dim past, the program explains. But there are questions still to be answered about the shining orb. Where did the sun come from? What is forecast for its future? How was the solar system created?

High point of the program will be observation of a lunar eclipse from the unique vantage point of the surface of the planet Mercury. The violent upheavals that are part of the mystery of the sun will be seen.

Planetarium director is Lt. Col. Wallace E. Moore. Lecturers are Maj. John M. Kirk and Capt. Donald J. Underwood. Enlisted staff members include: T. Sgt. Ormer Bunch, chief technician and NCOIC, and S. Sgts. Billy G. Grice and Richard B. Manning.

Angels to Play Key Role

In American League Chase

LOS ANGELES (AP) — For the rest of the week, one of the four teams ahead of the Los Angeles Angels will also be behind them.

The Angels open a three-game series at Chavez Ravine tonight against the third-place New York Yankees, who are three games out of the American League lead. When that's over, the Angels will play a series in the month, when they play a series at New York and move to three from there to Baltimore.

Between Baltimore and New York, and solidly behind Los Angeles, are the Chicago White Sox, who today trail the Orioles by only a half game.

If the Angels can't do anything for Chicago this week, they'll get another chance later in the month, when they play a series at New York and move to three from there to Baltimore.

Left-hander George Brunet, acquired after Bo Belinsky was kicked off the club, will start for the Angels tonight. Brunet, 29, will be making his first appearance here for the Angels but is likely to draw less attention than another newcomer.

Rick Reichardt, a 21-year-old outfielder signed earlier this year for a bonus estimated at nearly $200,000, will start in center field.

Reichardt hit .292 during a tour with Quad Cities of the Midwest League and was promoted to Hawaii about a month ago. He hit a half dozen homers in the Coast League.

The second half of the Twin Quin, the 11th race (also in post position order) bring Tiny Fun, Baby Taun, Sugar Baby Mar, Cindy Tray, Sky Gamble, Salt Springs, Sam Susie and Brooksy orbiting the longer Spring Course of 2,080 feet in a final event for the evening.

The Twin Quin is being offered at RMKC for the first time in its 16-year history. There are 11 races each night of the week at RMKC. Prior meetings have seen only 10 race cards on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights. Post time for the first race is 8 p.m. with the Daily Double windows opening at 7:15 p.m. Tickets on the Twin Quin may be purchased after the fifth racing and up to the running of the 10th.

Six Non-Pro Teams to See Action Tonight

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — All six teams remaining in the National Non-Pro Baseball Tournament will see action tonight and at least two will be eliminated.

Fairbanks, Alaska, the only unbeaten entry, handed Eureka, Calif., its first defeat Monday night, 7-5, and Bellingham, Wash., eliminated Wichita Moore 3-1.

Tonight's schedule (CST):

5:15 p.m. — Ponchatoula, La., 4-1 vs Eureka, 4-1.

7:45 p.m. — Fairbanks, 5-0, vs. Wichita Glass, 4-1.

9:45 p.m. — Bellingham, 4-1, vs. Wyoming, Mich., 4-1.

Another round of eliminations Wednesday will cut the field to the two finalists, and they will play Thursday. A second finds game Friday is a possibility.

The 32-team tournament started Aug. 14 and has been prolonged by two rain-outs. The lengthy period proved costly to Eureka. Four of its players, including two top hitters and a good relief pitcher, had to return to their jobs and the team had only 11 men in uniform against Fairbanks.

Yastrzemski Concedes Batting Title to Oliva

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Carl Yastrzemski, 40 points down in the statistics and somewhat down in the mouth, has conceded his American League batting title to Minnesota's brilliant rookie Tony Oliva.

"He'd have to fall into a real slump for anyone to beat him," Yaz said Monday of the young Cuban, who now is hitting .335 to Yastrzemski's .295.

In order for a boy to participate, he must have permission from his parents, a physical examination within the past six months, and pay the registration fee. Included in the registration fee is a mandatory football group insurance policy which each boy must have. A $1.50 uniform deposit will also be charged which is refunded when the boys return their equipment at the end of the season.

This program is open to any boy who will be in the fourth grade through the eighth grade with a maximum weight of 135 pounds.

A meeting of prospective coaches and referees will be held Wednesday, Sept. 2, at 7:30 p.m. in the Memorial Park Recreation Center, Pikes Peak and Hancock. Any men interested in helping with the 1964 football program should be present at this meeting.

Olympic Trials Produce Records

NEW YORK (AP) — Marilyn Ramenofsky, fresh from slicing another huge chunk off the world record for the women's 400 meter freestyle, says she's going to be better.

Fred Schmidt, just after trimming the American mark in the men's 200 meter butterfly to 2.08, thinks it will take 2.05 to win the event in the Olympics. The world mark of 2.06.9 is held by Australia's Kevin Berry.

Donna de Varona right after chopping her own world standard in the 400 meter individual medley to 5.14.9, says "I'll have to go faster to win in the Olympics."

This should give you some kind of an idea of the record-busting spree expected to brighten up the Olympic swimming championships at Tokyo, Oct. 10-24.

Miss Ramenofsky, who just turned 18 on Aug. 20, came out of nowhere to top the women's world list for 400 meters freestyle with a best time of 4.45.

This year the Pomona State-bound blonde has repeatedly hammered down one of swimming's hardest world records — the 400-meter free style final. She has won the women's 200 meter in 2.51.9, Tammy Hazleton, 16, of Silver Spring, Md., was second in 2.53.3 and Sandra Nitta, 15, of Commerce, Calif., third in 2.54.9. They should be ripe for the 1968 games if not at Tokyo.

The Tuesday schedule includes heats and finals in the men's 200 meter backstroke, women's 100 meter butterfly and heats only in the men's 1500-meter freestyle. The metric men's 200-meter final is tabbed for Wednesday.

BOUGHT BY BALTIMORE

Veteran right-hander Sam Jones was purchased today by the league-leading Baltimore Orioles from Columbus of the International League to bolster its pitching staff for the American League pennant drive. Baltimore gave up cash, estimated at about the $20,000 waiver price, and a minor league player to be announced later for the 38-year-old Jones.

Orioles Call Thirteen Off Farms

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles recalled 13 players from their farm clubs today, but it's doubtful that any will figure prominently in Baltimore's drive for the American League pennant.

Only one, outfielder Lou Piñella, who played only 16 games with Aberdeen of the Class A Northern League after being discharged from the Armed Forces, has been ordered to report immediately.

Piñella, who batted .290 at Aberdeen, was sent to the Orioles as part of the deal in which the Washington Senators purchased pitcher Buster Narum early in the season.

Outfielder Paul Blair, who at last report was leading the Class AA Eastern League with a .314 average, was ordered to join the Orioles after his league season ends next week.

Blair, who was drafted from the New York Mets' chain, was outstanding during spring training. With Elmira, he has driven in 49 runs and has 26 stolen bases.

Seven players were recalled from Rochester, but they could be delayed a couple weeks because the Red Wings will be involved in the International League playoffs.

The Rochester list includes four players with major league experience — outfielder Lou Jackson, and pitchers Mike McCormick, Herm Starrett and John Miller. The others are pitcher Darold Knowles, second baseman Dave Johnson and infielder-outfielder Curt Blyfay.

Said Bauer:

"I'm ahead of them two games in the loss column. They can't catch me if I keep winning."

Georgia Tech's Stadium Sought for Bowl Contest

ATLANTA (AP) — Athletic Director Bobby Dodd of Georgia Tech says decision may be Atlanta is one of the best foot-made by Sept. 16 on whether ball towns in America." Dodd said: "The bowl association definitely favors a college atmosphere and I think we can give it to them."

Dodd estimated that the game would draw between 35,000 and 50,000 spectators at Grant Field. In the four years of its existence at Buffalo, the game has been drawing only about 20,000.

Cloudy Weather Seen for Trials

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Partly cloudy weather was predicted again today for the fog-delayed resumption of defending and challenging competition in the America's Cup trials.

Dodd said he would talk to McLaughlin today and ask him to wait until he can get permission.

Pitchers in Key Roles As End of Season Nears

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK — A bad arm. A strong back. A new face. And an old head.

They belong to four different pitchers, who represent the most important commodity as the major leagues head today into the last month of the season.

The bad arm belongs to Sandy Koufax, the ace left-hander of the Los Angeles Dodgers, who was advised by a doctor Monday not to pitch again this season.

The strong back belongs to Juan Marichal, the ace right-hander of the San Francisco Giants, who passed his physical and was pronounced fit to pitch again.

The new face belongs to Masanori Murakami, a left-handed relief specialist called up by the Giants, who will become the first native-born Japanese to play for an American major league team.

The old head belongs to Sad Sam Jones, a 38-year-old right-hander purchased by Baltimore to bolster its pitching staff in the American League pennant race.

Koufax, the winningest pitcher in the majors with a 19-5 record and a 1.74 earned run average, underwent an examination on his inflamed left elbow in Los Angeles and was told not to attempt to pitch any more this season.

Dr Robert Kerlan said X rays showed nothing that would require surgery. Koufax, who posted a 25-5 record last year and won two games in the World Series, hurt the elbow sliding into second base in a game at Milwaukee early last month.

Marichal, a 15-game winner who has been virtually idle since July 29, underwent an examination in New York, where the Giants are scheduled to start a series with the Mets. He was told there was no trace of the pinched nerve in his back that has been bothering him.

Marichal, a 15-game winner this year, was purchased by Baltimore from Columbus of the International League to bolster its pitching staff for the American League pennant drive. Baltimore gave up cash, estimated at about the $20,000 waiver price, and a minor league player to be announced later for the 38-year-old Jones.

O'Hara in Training to Displace Burleson as America's Top Runner

By JERRY LISKA

Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Tom O'Hara Chicago's wispy running machine—all 130 pounds of him—is getting stoked and steamed up for an effort to displace Dyrol Burleson as America's top 1,500-meter Olympic delegate.

Jogging mainly in a concrete jungle and quaffing freely what he calls the O'Hara pep shake, the 5-foot-9 American indoor mile record holder is plotting revenge against arch-tormentor Burleson.

The pep shake is a blend of wheat germ, skim milk and orange sherbet.

O'Hara and Burleson will be meeting for the ninth time in the Olympic final trials at Los Angeles Sept. 12-13. O'Hara won once—beating Burleson by five yards in the National AAU metric mile at New Brunswick, N.J., June 28.

A week later, in the first Olympic trials at Randall's Island, N.Y., Burleson's great finish kick beat O'Hara by five yards. They have not met since, both skipping the U.S.-Russia duel meet July 25-26 at Los Angeles. Burleson has clinched an Olympic berth.

It is significant that O'Hara's winning time in the National AAU 1,500-meter was 3:38.1 for an American record. However, it also is evident that the former Chicago Loyola star is much more bothered by the Burleson kick than the clock.

"I think I can beat him this time, with a little bit of luck and better strategy," said O'Hara, who turned 22 on July 5. O'Hara's indoor mile record of 3:54.6 was set last March 6 in Chicago Stadium.

"I'll be giving it all I got, a little something extra to go to Tokyo as the top United States' 1,500-meter man."

"I won't be shooting for second, or even third just to make the squad. The only way to do it is shoot for first. If you think any other way, you are whipped before you start."

That's the way the words came out, but actually they showed more an apology than a challenge from this sandy-haired, pale-faced track elfin, modest almost to a fault.

O'Hara soft pedals his "better strategy," but obviously he hopes to set a blistering pace against Burleson starting at the halfway mark of the 1,500-meter showdown at Los Angeles.

Having completed his "marathon and hill running" on the streets of Chicago, O'Hara for two weeks has been concentrating on 50 and 440-yard sprints.

O'Hara jogs 50 yards

At a Northside public park, O'Hara jogs 50 yards and then sprints 50 over a two-mile distance. On "quarter-mile days," he sprints a half dozen 440s at between 55 and 58 seconds, resting only long enough between each to get his wind.

O'Hara, who coaches himself, said his routine was patterned after New Zealand's Peter Snell, world mile record holder at 3:54.5 and regarded the man to beat in the 1,500-meter Olympic run at Tokyo.

Snell never did his marathon work dodging traffic, pedestrians and rocks on Chicago's Lake Front, nor has Snell pounded through his hill work with thick-soled shoes on the best incline O'Hara could find—a one-half mile stretch on south Chicago street.

O'Hara expects the final Olympic 1,500-meter trial field also to include Jim Grelle, high schooler Jim Ryun, Bob Day and Archie Sam Romani Jr.

The O'Hara shake, in addition to wheat germ oil capsules which O'Hara also uses, was recommended by Thomas K. Cureton, University of Illinois physical fitness expert. It provides about 30 per cent of the daily iron needs for O'Hara.

Recently graduated from Chicago Loyola, O'Hara landed a regular job in the school's public relations department. That's why he won't show up in Los Angeles until Sept. 10, being excluded from the track squad assembly Sept. 3-8.

"I got to get as many paychecks as possible," O'Hara explained. "I'll be missing them a long time if I make it to Tokyo."

Teams Edging Closer to Beavers

The knock-down, drag-'em-out fight to the finish continued red hot in the Pacific Coast League's Western Division Monday night with three teams edging ever closer to the leading Portland Beavers.

The American League leading Orioles, meanwhile, pulled off a big surprise by dipping into the minors and purchasing Jones from Columbus of the International League for cash estimated in the neighborhood of the $20,000 waiver price and a minor league player to be named later out is called when the season ends Sept. 13.

Your Freedom Newspaper

Ever striving for the Pike's Peak Region to be an even better place to live.

This newspaper is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is self-control, no more, no less. It must be consistent with the truths expressed in such great moral guides as the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

A Reply to Victor Allen

We are engaged in responding to a letter written by Victor Allen of this city. The letter states that the government growth can no longer be justified. The move in the right direction will have been made by the length of the letter and gun.

24 To his credit, Mr. Allen is not suggesting that any of the men presently standing for office has the qualities he suggests. We will, realistically, suggest that there is no such man in existence, nor is one likely to appear. Further, this is not the end sought nor the method to be used. By finding a truly reliable man, we would again be instilling in the minds of people that they could, with confidence, have someone else run their affairs for them. This would enhance reliance on government rather than enhancing self-reliance.

25 Of course, no man can ever win office who eschews political action. The concept Mr. Allen offers is a hope that is wholly unrealistic. He accuses us of dealing in fable and dream, but at this point he is wholly unrealistic. All political leaders are politicians. All governments operate by political method. It is the only method open to them.

26 It is true that we, the people, are at least partly responsible for the mess we are in. We have asked government for more and more goodies with each passing year. Since government can exist only by dealing politically, it has become expedient for government to seek to provide all the goodies we have demanded. But, further, it must be pointed out that contests in the hustings help to inspire this same thing. All political contests enlarge the area of presumed "benefits" from the government, by introducing new areas in which it is promised that government can serve us all. Thus, although the people are involved, the politicians are the driving force behind the process.

27 We will keep up our belief in freedom and our trust in truth. We do not think this is a "nice dream" but, in fact, that it is a reality. If we cannot think through our problems, obviously we cannot solve them. To think through our problems, if we dare attempt it, will reveal that there are principles of human life and human ecology which tell us what we must do to improve our situation. These can be followed peacefully by encouraging people to solve their own problems and stand on their own feet.

How far can this process proceed? We have no way of knowing. Mr. Allen assumes that we have freedom in mind as a goal to be reached. This is not true. Freedom is a way of living, not a destination. We can begin practically, where we are, by refusing to accept governmental aid and subsistence, by rejecting suggestions that we can use the government to improve the government. Whatever changes are to come, if they are to be in the right direction, must come from outside the state structure.

The reason for government's advances during the years has obviously rested upon the fact that many people falsely believe that they can turn their affairs over to their government and retain their freedom. They cannot. To reduce the size of government... we know of no known limit to be sought... we can begin peacefully and reasonably to reject government aid at all points open to us. If we can teach men to be self-reliant and to solve their own problems, then they will not

You cannot avoid your responsibilities. They arise automatically as result of your choices and actions.

The Hand of Friendship

Reader Chechak, who now gun readily available to him, he must have some reason for having that gun. Men do not knowingly perform an idle act.

Since in the situation described we do not have a gun and Mr. Chechak has a gun, how are we able to read his mind with respect to the possibility he intends for that gun? Is he going to seek to force us to do what he wishes? Does he intend to aggress against us? We cannot treat on equal terms when one side is armed and the other is not.

In this situation we would certainly distrust him; not because he owns a gun, but because he calls upon us with a gun.

He assures us that he is trustworthy. Ordinarily, we would accept this at face value. But when he appears before us equipped to kill us, our sense of trust oozes away.

If Mr. Chechak owns scores of guns and keeps them locked up and out of harm's way, we have no problem. Indeed, many of our good friends, whom we trust, own guns. This causes us no concern at all, and no lack of trust.

But if any of these persons who are our friends, came to us wearing or carrying a weapon, unless he could quickly put our mind to rest concerning the purpose of this armament, we believe we would experience apprehension. And such apprehension would certainly not be present if the gun were not present.

Mr. Chechak understands that we do not have a gun at ready. This means that he would come to us with a gun, or wearing one, we would be very apt to leave. A man wishing to do business with us does not have to carry a gun or wear one. If he comes to us as an armed man, since he does not require these arms in any dealings he may have with us, we are, we believe, justified in becoming apprehensive.

Mr. Chechak understands that we do not have a gun at ready. This means that he would come to us with a

IDEA EXCHANGE

To the Editor:

The following is the conclusion of a letter from Mr. Allen, the first part of which was published yesterday.

23 We cannot overthrow the government as it is against the government's law, but we can throw out the machines that run it.

24 First, we need a man to vote for — a man with the guts for common causes, a man who will honestly guide the country as one nation under God. We need a man who has America's good as his prime target, a man for the people instead of for personal greed or government power; a man who is big enough to give government back to the people where it belongs.

25 And last, we need a man who is not scraped up out of the political cesspools and put into the president's chair. Until we find such a man we must vote for the lesser of the evils that we are offered as candidates. We have not had a president for many many years who would willingly put the people of the country ahead of his party's wants and wishes.

26 But it was the people, you and I, that allowed this to happen.

Our government is what it is, because the people in it are what they are.

27 Keep up your nice dreams, but don't allow facts to interfere with your opinions.

MORE ON FIREARMS

To the Editor:

First, I do not classify myself as a gun enthusiast. I consider myself fortunate if I am able to get a firearm in my hands for two weeks out of the year. Sure, I would enjoy being able to target practice much more, but I would rather eat than shoot.

Second, I do not want to carry my firearm on my person

The Local Scene

Adventures in Good Eating

By RUFUS L. PORTER

I am one who admires good old-fashioned American cooking. As a day to day, year-around menu, give me American dishes every day, especially in the home I will not bother to list my favorites, there are so many of them.

But dining out can be enhanced immeasurably if we try new and exotic menus in a "foreign" atmosphere occasionally. And Colorado Springs is becoming famous for its international cuisine. It is possible to "eat one's way around the world" nowadays just by visiting the many restaurants in town that cater to special appetites, or to those seeking diversion or variety; and in eating, variety is literally the spice of life.

Third, I am not trying to tell you that you must own a firearm for your own protection. If you do not wish to protect yourself, I could care less. I did hope to think of you as a friend but you do not trust a man who owns a firearm at home, even if I cannot convince you to trust the man with a gun (a man that can be trusted without a gun). After I clear up a couple of items from your "The He Duel" editorial (August 29), I'll try to attract your friendship one last time. I know that a person cannot force another to be a friend and I am not about to give up my part-time hobby and full time self-protection means — guns — just to gain someone's friendship.

I know that a person cannot force another to be a friend and I am not about to give up my part-time hobby and full time self-protection means — guns — just to gain someone's friendship.

I haven't the slightest idea how many restaurants there are in the city which serve the national foods of other countries, but their number must be considerable. I know of several places where excellent Mexican food is served, and I love Mexican food. There are several German and Italian cafes in the area and two wonderful Chinese eating places, perhaps more. Now, obviously, I can't possibly plug every "foreign" restaurant in town, especially when I don't know the half of them. I can only hope that this article can be construed as a plug for all of them and will encourage my readers to try one or more of them when they feel the urge for variety.

I do not mean to disparage the exclusively American cafes, because they are the salt of the earth and the only ones I could recommend for a steady diet.

Racial Strife Seen As Malaysian Danger

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Racial strife between Chinese and Malays could pose the biggest danger to our future prospects than any other peril from within or without.

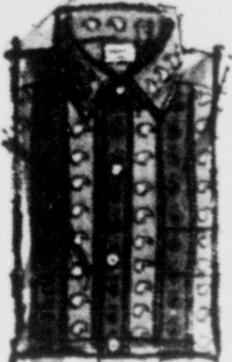

He called last month's bloody racial riots in Singapore "a stain on our reputation."

In a speech on the federation's first anniversary, the king said: "Let us never forget that internal strife can be more damaging to our future prospects than any other peril from within or without."

He called last month's bloody racial riots in Singapore "a stain on our reputation."

WORRY CLINIC

By George W. Crane, M.D., Ph.D.

10-B—Gazette Telegraph Tuesday, Sept. 1, 1964
Colorado Springs, Colo.

Jean wonders how it would be possible for her to fall ardently in love with a stranger. Yet love can be developed out of original casual acquaintance if both parties simply follow the precise formula for developing romance. Scrapbook this case and its follow-up tomorrow.

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph.D., M.D.

CASE T-462 Joan J., aged 24, is a school teacher.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "I met a school principal through the Scientific Marriage Foundation.

"He lives in a city about 100 miles away, and we have written to each other for several weeks.

"I'll admit his letters are very interesting and the snapshot he sent me reveals that he is nice looking.

"But I don't love him at all. for I haven't even met him in person.

"So how could I ever fall in love with him?"

"Isn't the old saying true which states that marriages are made in heaven?"

If you go through the proper motions, you will soon begin to feel the corresponding emotions!

ROBERT COLE
Republican Candidate for COUNTY JUDGE

The Republican Primary Election will be held on September 8, 1964. I need your vote in seeking one of two designations as a candidate for County Judge.

I have substantial support from members of the local bar association who wish to see a competent practicing attorney as a County Judge; but, the new County Court will not be for the sole use of attorneys but will be used by all the citizens of this county.

If nominated and elected, I pledge that I will serve you diligently and with dignity.

Your vote for one of two County Judges will be appreciated.

William T. Davis, Chairman of the Committee to Elect Robert Cole County Judge

That's an axiom of psychology.

It works just as precisely as other laws of chemistry and physics.

For example, if you take a piece of wire, then bend it into a loop and twirl it in your hand, an electric current will instantly flow through that wire.

You will not get an electrical shock, for the current is so slight in a single loop of wire.

But a dynamo is simple composed of thousands of loops of wire, and from that dynamo comes the current to run a factory or light an entire town.

In your high school physics laboratory you can prove the fact that even one loop of wire will create an electrical current.

Furthermore, the electrical current will flow, whether you are a Greek or Russian, an African, Chinese or Caucasian.

Electricity will be created as soon as the proper situation arises on which it depends.

For God Almighty thus surrounded our globe with invisible lines of force that run from the North Pole to the South pole.

Cutting them with a loop of wire automatically and inexorably starts an electrical current.

Well, we have psychological laws which God Almighty also established.

And one of those psychological maxims states that if a boy and girl are thrown into personal contact and if they then go through the proper motions of romance, soon romance will develop.

Love is as elemental and inexorable as the electrical current that results from twirling a loop of wire.

Dipsea Race Is Run On Grueling Stairway

MILL VALLEY, Calif. (AP)

They ran the Dipsea Race for the 54th time Sunday over a grueling course of stairways, winding roads and mountain trails for 6.8 miles to Stinson Beach.

The winner was Gregg Sparks, 17, of Mill Valley, who started with 190 other entries up an agonizing stairway to a steep and foggy ridge. He finished 52 minutes and 19 seconds later.

"I can't understand it," said his mother. "He's so darn lazy at home."

William T. Davis, Chairman of the Committee to Elect Robert Cole County Judge

Many of you teenagers disbelieve this psychological law, but it ALWAYS works, if you follow the precise prescription.

I have won wagers with many older students who also disbelieved, even when they were in graduate school at Northwestern University.

For love can be developed out of original casual contacts. It can also turn to ashes, yet be revived anew if the parties involved will follow psychological rules.

Divorces develop because couples fail to distinguish between true love vs. sexual infatuation, and thus rush into selfish unions.

In both true love and physical infatuation, you feel excited, ecstatic, with butterflies in your stomach. Your pulse pounds and you may feel trembly all over.

Thus, those physical findings cannot be trusted! So you must use your brain to rule your heart. See tomorrow's follow-up.

Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.

Largest Scientific Satellite Planned

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States plans to launch this week its largest scientific and interplanetary space satellite, designated OGO-A, beyond reach of the earth's magnetic field.

Carrying 20 scientific experiments contributed by government laboratories and universities, the satellite will be aimed into an orbit looping from 170 miles above the earth out to 92,000 miles.

Containing the widest variety of marine life found anywhere, the Great Barrier Reef is the world's most extensive hunting ground for coral fancier, shell collector, underwater explorer and marine biologist.

Check it out. You'll find Muirhead's price is so low it's almost unbelievable. The secret? Muirhead's is brought over in barrels! You save on taxes and shipping costs. Otherwise, you'd pay up to $2 more a fifth for this light, fine quality Scotch. Muirhead's. Try it.
